The match is made and all is done,
Your sonne shall haue my daughter with consent.
Tra. I thanke you sir, where then doe you know best
We be affied and such assurance tane,
As shall with either parts agreement stand.
Bap. Not in my house Lucentio for you know
Pitchers haue eares, and I haue manie seruants,
Besides old Gremio is harkning still,
And happilie we may be interrupted.
Tra. Then at my lodging, and it like you,
There doth my father lie: and there this night
Weele passe the businesse priuately and well:
Send for your daughter by your seruant here,
My boy shall fetch the Scriuener presentlie,
The worst is this that at so slender warning,
You are like to haue a thin and slender pittance.
Bap. It likes me well:
Cambio hie you home and bid Bianca make her readie straight:
And if you will tell what hath hapned,
Lucentios father is arriued in Padua,
And how she's like to be Lucentios wife.
Biond. I pray the Gods she may with all my heart.
Exit.
Tran. Dallie not with the Gods, but get thee gone.
Enter Petr.
Signior Baptista shall I leade the way,
Welcome one messe is like to be your cheere,
Come sir we will better it in Pisa.
Bap. I follow you.
Exeunt.
Enter Lucentio and Biondello.
Bion. Cambio.
Luc. What saist thou Biondello.
Biond. You saw my Master winke and laugh vpon you?
Luc. Biondello, what of that?
Biond. Faith nothing: but has left me here behinde to expound the meaning or morall of his signes and tokens.
Luc. I pray thee moralize them.
Biond. Then thus: Baptista is safe talking with the deceiuing Father of a deceitfull sonne.

Luc.

Luc. And what of him?
